Re: nomination of candidate for Cumulus presidency

Dear Cumulus Association,

I am the Director of Education of Domus Academy and represent our institution within the Cumulus Association. We would like to nominate Lorenzo Imbesi as a candidate in the next general elections as president of the Association.

Lorenzo is a leading design academic with high regard in Italy, Europe and beyond. His dedication to furthering education and scholarly inquiry within the design areas is well documented by his teaching, research and active participation as a member of numerous institutional and professional boards.

His career achievements and experience within the current Cumulus Executive Board — contributing in many ways with perspective and dedication — make him an ideal candidate to lead the Association. He would bring forth both continuity and new ideas that promote the values and prepare for future challenges.

We fully appreciate and recognise the value of the Association and the important role that the Executive Board has in guiding the organisation and promoting the community of exchange, excellence and the goals of design education.

Sincerely,
Mark Anderson

Director of Education
