

The Faculty of Design of Kyiv National University of Technologies and Design (Kyiv, Ukraine) sincerely thanks the Cumulus Association for its comprehensive support and assistance. Cumulus is the leading global organization that unites higher education institutions from 63 countries of the world for internationalization and global mobility, knowledge exchange, and cooperation in the fields of art and design. This is a forum for partnership and exchange of knowledge and best practices of universities and colleges of art, design, and media, so it is an honor for us to be a member of the Cumulus Association, and to participate in events, research, and communication. We are grateful to all members of the Organizing Council and members of the Cumulus Secretariat for their fruitful work during the past term.

We express our confidence and recommend Lorenzo Imbesi, PhD, Professor at the Sapienza University of Rome (Italy), for the position of the 2025-2028 Cumulus President because he is a highly qualified specialist, a sensitive person, a good organizer who does many useful things to support the activities of the Cumulus Association and its further development.

Best regards,

Dean of the Faculty of Design
